Are We Interested In Our Children? (AN EDITORIAL)

State's Atty. Robert Nelson recently told an audience of Lions Club members that the chief cause of child delinquency is the lack of interest and concern for their welfare by parents. Where the parents take an interest in what the youngsters are doing, especially if it is something commendable, very few of the boys and girls turn out bad.

Business men and patriotic organizations in Antioch are providing competitive baseball for young and older boys, and leaders are giving of their time in managing the teams and refereeing the games. They are to be commended for their unselfish efforts.

They become discouraged, however, when parents of the boys fail to come out to the games, to root for the teams and give the youngsters encouragement. Remember, parents your stock will soar in the eyes of your son if you just take the time to attend the next game in which he participates, even if he merely sits on the bench.

Lake Villa Library is Success After Year of Township Tax Support

After having operated a year as a tax supported institution, the Lake Villa Township library has enjoyed increased popularity, which is reflected in a turn-over of 1,200 books a month from 700 borrowers.

The library was started in 1949 when several members of the Parent-Teacher club begged and borrowed books while the Lake Villa Community Men's club obtained quarters in the village hall and built shelves from which the books were displayed.

Volunteers manned the library at convenient hours and did the cataloging and indexing of books.

In 1952 an election was held and a library tax voted. Because the tax money did not come in until a year later, the full time librarian, Mrs. Lois Kerr, was not employed until July of 1953. She is in charge of an institution that now has 3,500 books, 800 of which are on loan from the state library.

"We have an up-to-date stock of books which is constantly refreshed by new books," said Mrs. Kerr. One donor keeps us supplied with Book of the Month Club items.

Mrs. Kerr reminded the people that courses in nearly any subject can be obtained in books from the state library at low postage rates and with dispatch.

She emphasized that the Lake Villa library is for the whole township and not for the village alone, because it is supported by taxes from the township.

Civil Defense Alert Test Varies in Success

The civil defense alert was sounded at 2 p. m. Sunday while the fire department and rescue squad made a run to Rte. 173 for an imaginary emergency situation.

Director John Horan said the traffic responded well to police instruction to clear the street.

The village acknowledged the national alert test at 10:50 a. m. Monday but no run was made.

The response was good in some places and bad in others. Waukegan pedestrians did not seek shelter as they were told to do.

In some areas of the city the alarm could not be heard.

Because bids on the construction of an addition to the Grant Community High school were far above the amount of the bond issue, the architects have been ordered to pare the requirements.

Antioch, Lake Villa In Campaign to Induce People to Drink Milk

Dairymen Hope to Avoid Need of Federal Price Supports

Morris Bown and Otto Sprenger were named Antioch township leaders and Howard Bonner, leader for Lake Villa township in the campaign of the Lake County Farm Bureau to induce people to drink more milk.

Farm Bureau leaders, milk producers, processors and dealers met at the American Legion Home in Grayslake Monday evening and mapped out a plan by which the public will be encouraged to drink more milk for their health's sake.

At the same time that milk consumption is increased, milk surpluses will be decreased and there will be less occasion for the federal government to provide price supports.

The Lake County Farm Bureau has opposed price supports where it can be avoided.

LeRoy Wegener of Ingleside told the audience that if half the people would drink but a glass of milk extra a day the surplus would be wiped out. We don't want to kill our cows to reduce milk production.

The meeting was directed by Bureau President Stanley Rouse.

Farm Advisor Ray T. Nicholas said that the producers must show the public that milk is good for their health. Advertising will be placed in Antioch retail stores saying that milk helps people to relax, is non-fattening, helps one to sleep better, and provides the calcium that is needed.

The report that the federal government is planning to up the price support from 75c to 80c was viewed with dismay by the Lake County dairymen.

"That means that the price of milk will go up; people will consume less and while we may gain a little at first, we will lose through excess milk later on," said Ray T. Nicholas, farm advisor.

Where Our Strength Lies

Granville Hicks is a writer who, out of idealistic motives, became a convert to Communism and was for a time editor of The New Masses. Eventually bitter disenchantment set in and he is now strongly anti-Communist.

In a book describing his experience, Mr. Hicks says of the United States: "We are strong because we have come reasonably close to doing what Russia, in spite of all its promises, has failed to do. We have made industrialism serve the interest of all—or almost all—the people. This is the country in which the revolution of our times is most advanced. If we use our strength wisely, we can win the war, cold or hot."

Cool, Power and the Future

Quite naturally and properly, there is a vast amount of discussion over harnessing nuclear energy for peace-time work, particularly as a producer of electric power. A danger is that this may make many people believe that such developments are just around the corner, and that other energy sources are becoming obsolete.

Some important clarifying light has been thrown on the matter by the president of a major power company which is intensively investigating the use of a nuclear furnace in the thermal generation of electricity. Early in his address he pointed to the tremendous mechanical progress within the electric industry as it is now constituted, brought about in large measure by the cooperation of the coal industry. He observed: "Coal has consistently been used as the source of energy for the major part of the electricity generated in this country, and continues to be increasingly important in this respect."

Later on he said, "Because of the scientific and engineering problems involved, and without regard to the economic factors, atomic power probably cannot become substantially important in the matter of total power supply within the next ten to twenty years. The expansion of our present conventional fuel burning facilities must continue. . . . It is my thought that the need for coal for power generation will continue at well above its present level for many years."

In sum, coal, far from being near-obsolete as an energy source, becomes a bigger factor all the time.

Peculiar Injustices

Have you heard it charged that the proposal to give tax relief to people who receive income from stock dividends, which has been subjected to double taxation since 1936, is a shameful "help-the-rich" scheme?

If so, read what the Odessa, Texas, American, has to say: "It is a strange complaint when statistics show that of all 6,400,000 shareholders in this country less than 10 per cent lay claim to any real wealth at all and roughly half have total incomes of $4300 or less.

"We are inclined to peculiar injustices in this land when we want to tax double the thrifty who make possible the national prosperity."

The Emphasis is on Salesmanship

At intervals leaders in the field of retail trade hold conventions and meetings, in which they discuss matters of common interest and exchange ideas.

It's highly significant that at recent gatherings of this nature, the strongest kind of emphasis has been placed on the need for better salesmanship. This includes advertising, displays, and other promotion. It further includes improvement in the general caliber of salespeople—the men and women who represent the store to the prospective consumer, and whose abilities and attitudes and knowledge may mean the difference between a good record and a bad one in any retail enterprise.

What we have here is more proof of how intensely competitive all retail business has become—and how the consumer and his desires dominate present-day thinking in retail circles. There was a period, during and after the war, when it was possible to sell practically anything, even if shoddy and over-priced, and when real salesmanship wasn't needed. That era has gone with the wind—and the successful retailers of the present are those who offer their wares most attractively, and who give the best value and service for the money.

Wise retailers know that this is good for the long-run welfare of their industry. And its benefits to the consumer are too obvious to need describing.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

"Sense versus Nonsense" will be the subject to be perused in today's seminar. And if enough folks get interested and will get the answer along to their law wranglers ensconced there in Old Spend-till-it-hurts-town, amongst the Potomac, this seminar could pay good dividends for the effort.

I tee-off on nonsense—nonsense seeming to have the upper hand in so many divers places. If we can root out the nonsense we will get back to gumption and horse sense quick. For the champion frivolity and humbug performance that we put up with I enter the continuing of payments by Uncle Samuel to boost production of wheat, peanuts, cotton, etc., as the stored items pile mile high. For storing of same, costs add up to $500,000.00 per day. That is what the paper says—$500,000 a day for storage. And the items stored—and tied up and deteriorating—amount of 6 billion and is gaining on us.

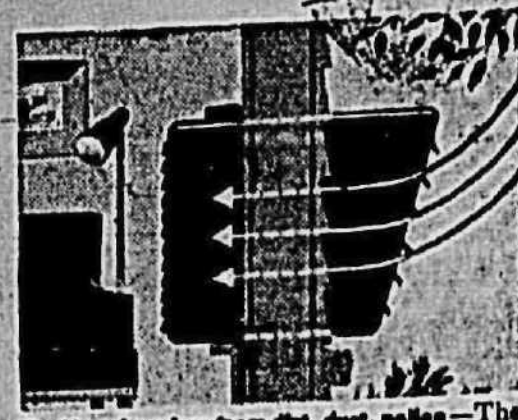

Congress does not seem to catch on that everybody—100 per cent—is a consumer. If Mr. and Mrs. Consumer would pick up their ball-point and tell their befuddled congressman what they plan on doing next autumn, at voting time, and how fur will fly, the "prop fumididdles" would cease. A congressman can smell a vote miles away—and then some. And tell your man to lend an ear to that Utah gentleman, Mr. Benson of the Dept. of Agriculture. That gentleman of esteem from the "land of the saints" has vertebrae and balance—he is no run-of-the-mill type.

Yours with the low down,

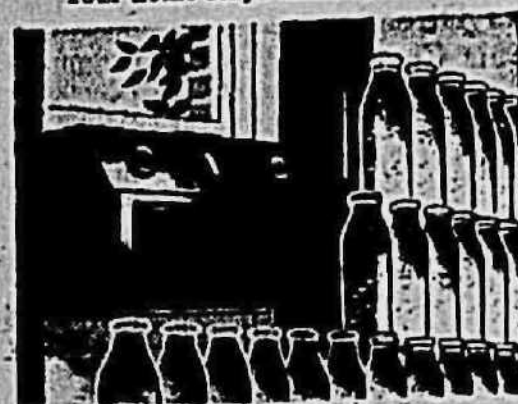

JO SERRA

Success Story

---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position—the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed.

Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people—and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy—by far.

Study Discloses Male Gender Uses Variety of Perfume

NEW YORK—The use of fragrance is no longer restricted to the feminine gender. According to a nose count by a cosmetics and toiletries trade magazine, American males are buying more than a hundred brands of perfume, cologne, and toilet water specifically created for men, in addition to 134 less pungent but more generally used shaving lotions.

The magazine published an industry-wide directory of the cosmetics and toiletries industry which does an annual over-the-counter volume of more than a billion dollars.

An alphabetical list of more than two thousand active brand names is included in the directory, running the gamut of sweet sounding and seductive titles from "Amour" under the A's to "Zelline" under Z.

A spokesman for the magazine was quoted as follows: "Although most Americans find they can make themselves adequately fragrant with after shaves, it's interesting to note that there are enough males in this country who prefer the greater potency of colognes and toilet waters to support the sale of a hundred active brands. There's nothing silly, however, about the colognes and toilet waters available to men in this country; they are distinctly masculine scents. The sissies buy the feminine brands."

You Just Think You See in 3-d

NEW YORK—When you look at a wide-screen or 3-D, don't think you're actually seeing things in depth. It's all an illusion, say the experts, or rather, it's an optical effect.

Even when you look out of the window at a nearby tree, a distant barn, and a cloud 25 miles away, you are not seeing distance, if you depend upon your eyes alone. For the eye, as an optical instrument, has no means of judging the third dimension. It represents things on a flat surface, exactly as a camera reproduces them on a flat film.

The feeling of depth arises in the brain, and is the result of certain tip-offs or "cues" which we have learned to understand as meaning depth. For example, to view a nearby object, the eyes converge or are rolled inward by muscles attached to the eyeballs.

The wide-screen or panoramic films rely largely for their sense of depth on the extra amount of "side scenery" which they show. This furnishes innumerable clues as to distance.

Indestructible Man

Within us all there dwells a deep conviction, often unexplained, that life must have a meaning and be safe from final harm.

For many this feeling has found a resting place more secure than "hope" alone. In heartfelt gratitude they have discovered and built on rock that cannot be shaken — the rock of proof, of answered prayer.

Thoughtful study of the Bible in the new light of the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy reveals and proves there is an answer to honest prayer.

Every statement in this book can be put to the test. Anyone can test for himself the hope within him.

Junior Golf Tournament
At Bonnie Brook Course
On Tuesday, June 29th

The fifth Annual Waukegan North Chicago JC Junior Golf Tournament June 29 at Bonnie Brook Golf club promises to be the best in its history according to plans announced today by Co-chairmen Sheldon Lovinger and Chuck Wilson.

Open to all boys in Lake county who have not reached their eighteenth birthday as of Aug. 15, there will be two divisions. The Senior division for boys 15 through 17 and the Junior division for boys under 15. Two trophies and three medals will be awarded to the low five scorers in each division.

Among the innovations, said co-chairmen Lovinger and Wilson will be a free lunch with soft drinks for all entrants. It was also decided to take three boys to the State Tournament on July 12 and 13 all expenses paid. Last year only two boys were taken. This year not only will the two low scorers in the senior division be taken but also the winner in the Junior division.

Both divisions will play 18 holes in the morning on June 29 with the low six scorers playing additional holes for the prizes. (Seniors 18 holes, Juniors 9 holes. In case of ties, there will be a sudden death playoff.

Those boys wishing to register can do so at Lovinger's Men's store, corner Water and Genesee, Bonnie Brook C. C. or after Monday at any pro shop in the county. Early entrants get choice of tee off times and can form own foursomes.

Birds Possessed
With Personality,
Language, Memory

WASHINGTON—Do birds have personalities? Definitely, reports naturalist Hance Roy Ivor, who has struck up an intimate acquaintance with many at his Erindale, Ontario bird observatory.

In an article written for the National Geographic Magazine, Ivor says, "Birds have the capacity for more than a glimmer of intelligence." Emotions resembling fear, love and jealousy are evident, he says, and birds have memory, and something akin to a language.

Mr. Ivor has worked with bluebirds, doves, thrushes, robins and other native birds for 23 years. Scores of songsters have come to accept him as their foster parent. As a student of wildlife, he was granted special permit by Canadian authorities to confine birds.

Many of Mr. Ivor's birds fly free during the day; some being allowed as much as eight months of daytime liberty each year. In the evening all birds are shut in the observatory. To get them inside, Mr. Ivor merely calls their names.

But birds, like small children, don't always respond. Pet, a willful blue jay, came to roost only when it suited her. Mr. Ivor solved the problem by having Dick, another jay, call Pet. She answered and flew in. From that time, whenever she refused to go in, Mr. Ivor had the male bird page her, and it worked every time.

Heart Disease
Picture Hopeful

NEW YORK — Heart disease victims who recover from an initial attack have a good chance of living for many years, according to a study of survivorship among a group of men insured as standard risks who subsequently became disabled by heart disease, but later recovered sufficiently to be considered able to return to work.

More than 70 per cent of the group, regardless of the type of heart ailment causing disability, were still alive after five years. Of those who had been disabled solely by arteriosclerotic heart disease, about 85 per cent were living at the end of five years, and 70 per cent at the end of ten years.

Survivorship was somewhat less favorable for arteriosclerotic cases with a coronary occlusion history, although even among more than 50 per cent survived for 10 years.

The study indicates that resumption of activity by persons with heart disease is often practicable, according to the statisticians.

Underwater Paradise
For Haiti Visitors

PORT-AU-PRINCE — Under the sparkling emerald waters of Haiti's great Bay of Gonave lies one of the world's most spectacular marine gardens.

Tourists visiting Port au Prince always put the three-hour trip to Sand Cay on their "must" list. A comfortable cruiser makes the two-mile trip each day. Once there, the visitors step into a glass bottom boat for a tour of an underwater fantasia of astonishing beauty.

The boat cruises over lacy sea plumes or royal purple, shaded coral towers that serve as home to hundreds of varieties of brilliantly-colored tropical fish. Below, the striped trumpet fish and the blue and yellow angel fish flash by, then a roly poly spiked porcupine fish the Haitians call "Fou-Fou".

How About Two Scepters?
How many licks in an ice cream cone? Children, wishing to prolong the treat, can get up to 300 licks.

Jersey Herd at Marelyn
Farm Sells for $11,225

The prices at the disposal sale of the Jersey herd of Henry A. Gardner at Marelyn farm southwest of Rosecrans Monday afternoon were low considering the quality of pure bred cattle offered.

The top cow sold for $820, beating the herd sire. The sale total was $11,275 and 66 animals were sold, 30 of them heifer calves.

Alvin K. Ringe, herdsman, said he will stay on the farm until it is sold at private sale.

"This just isn't a Jersey area," commented Ringe as he saw the low bidding. Half of the purchases were made by Wisconsin residents.

Why GMC's make other trucks out of date

Be careful—drive safely

The GMC light-duty truck does more because it has, as standard equipment, a full 125-horsepower engine—the most powerful 6 in its class.

The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck performs better because it always is in the correct gear for the need—regardless.

The GMC light-duty commands respect with its dashing smartness—its look of quality—its spacious luxury cab, that make you and your wife proud to take it anywhere.

The GMC light-duty truck saves more because its Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* ends repairs caused by shock-loading strains—ends all clutch costs—uses less gas—saves the tires.

The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck handles easier because you never have to shove a clutch or shift a gear.

The GMC light-duty truck costs less to own—less to run—than old-style trucks. Come in and we'll demonstrate it!

do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability cut your time per trip.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground to make loading and unloading faster and easier.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you can forget about clutching and shifting—for good! This proved, economical automatic transmission is optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save on operating costs. The "Thrifmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop as long as you own a Chevrolet truck. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks.

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck.
We'll be glad to give you all the money-saving facts.

Antioch Pony League Team Beats Isle Lake, Will Play Wauconda

After losing to Fox Lake last Thursday to the score of 8 to 5 Antioch bounced back and won over Isle Lake to the tune of 13 to 8. In last Sunday's game a home run was hit by Gerry Huml and the rest of the boys did some pretty good hitting.

The battery for Antioch was Richard Jonas, catcher, and Pete Zalaris was the starting pitcher and was relieved in the sixth inning by Gerry Huml.

There has been some comment made that not enough of the fathers and mothers are coming out to help support their boys. Let's have a real big turnout this Sunday when the boys will be playing against Fox Lake, said Manager Ed, Zalaris.

toris.

The game is to be held at the Little League field this Sunday at 3 o'clock. There will be a Little League game at one o'clock before the Pony team game will start.

A game will be played this evening against Wauconda at Wauconda. Antioch has won two and lost three games.

All people driving cars are requested to meet at the high school field at 5:30 p. m.
